FORSSA MUSEUM & PATTERN CENTRE

Wahreninkatu 12, Forssa

www.forssanmuseo.fi

Forssa is the home of Finnish industrially printed textiles. Our exhibitions will take you from the international textile production of the 19th century to the origins of Finnish textile design, to the flower power prints of the 1970s, and the golden age of Nordic and Scandinavian design. Here, history is not painted black and white, but with the colors of the decades!

Forssa Museum & Pattern Center are located in the historical Spinning Mill – at the birthplace of our city. Here, industrial red-brick architecture of the 19th century meets lush green parks by the Loimijoki River.

Since the 1980s, after the textile factory closed its doors, the Spinning Mill Area has developed into a cultural hub and a unique historical travel destination.

As Finland's central glass museum our goal is to tell the stories of glass in the past and in the present. The Permanent exhibition introduces the thousand-year-old history and the long traditions of Finnish glass making and design. Changing exhibitions bring forth domestic and international glass and glass art, pioneers of the industry and most respected makers and designers, as well as rarely seen historical collections from all over the world.

A restaurant serves you on the premises. Glass studios, outlets, and vintage stores nearby can also be found nearby.

ROAD TO INDUSTRIAL DESIGN

Between the large cities of southern Finland, lies a concentration of heritage and travel destinations related to Finnish designs and production. Here you can find the classics of industrial glass and textile design as well as fascinating historic locations, museums, exhibitions, boutiques, accommodation, and restaurants.

These unique sites along the way tell a shared history of domestic design production, that has been, and still is a part of the everyday life of ordinary people. Here design is set on the table for dinner, it decorates our homes with timeless classics by world-renowned artists, covers our windows as printed curtains, and makes our beds. Everyday design and memories it carries, last from generation to generation.
